

CUMBERLAND

Donna Kingsbury of Hope Mills, a senior environmental studies student at UNC-Pembroke, has accepted the Interpretation and Education internship at the Department of Environment and Natural Resources' William B. Umstead State Park in Raleigh.

Melinda Tanner of Fayetteville, a junior sociology/psychology student at UNC-Chapel Hill, has accepted the Applied Social Research and Evaluation internship at the Department of Crime Control & Public Safety's Governor's Crime Commission in Raleigh.

DURHAM

Stacy Bergendahl of Durham, a second-year law student at the UNC School of Law, has accepted the Court of Appeals internship at Judge Wanda Bryant's chambers in Raleigh.

Natasha Cox of Durham, a sophomore psychology major at Elizabeth City State University, has accepted the Communications and Marketing Project internship at the Department of Administration's Youth Advocacy and Involvement Office in Raleigh.

Rebekah Fuerst of Durham, a sophomore geography student at UNC-Greensboro, has accepted the Husbandry internship at the Department of Environment & Natural Resource's N.C. Aquarium at Pine Knoll Shores.

Kristin Mangum of Rougemont, a junior accounting student at Meredith College, has accepted the Individual Income and Withholding Tax internship at the Department of Revenue's Examination office in Raleigh.

Pope McCorkle IV of Durham, an undeclared sophomore at Princeton University, has accepted the Press Office internship at the Office of the Governor in Raleigh.

FORSYTH

Carrie Hamilton of Winston-Salem, a senior communications student at Appalachian State University, has accepted the News and Feature Stories internship at the N.C. Community College System's Office of the President in Raleigh.

Sanford Hinkle of Winston-Salem, a junior sociology/psychology student at Virginia Tech, has accepted the Unauthorized Substances Tax Enforcement Agent internship at the Department of Revenue in Greensboro.

Darcel Walker of Clemmons, a junior communications student at UNC-Pembroke, has accepted the Ferry, Rail, Aviation and Highway Documentary internship at the Department of Transportation's Human Resources office in Raleigh.

William Winters of Winston-Salem, a second-year law student at Wake Forest University School of Law, has accepted the Supreme Court internship with Justice Paul Newby's chambers in Raleigh.

FRANKLIN

Brandi Frederickson of Franklinton, a sophomore middle grades education student at UNC-Chapel Hill, has accepted the Museum Educator and Researcher internship at the Department of Cultural Resources' Duke Homestead Historic Site in Durham.

GASTON

William Windley of Gastonia, an undeclared sophomore at Appalachian State University, has accepted the Unauthorized Substances Tax Enforcement Agent internship at the Department of Revenue in Charlotte.